

Learn How You Can Save $1000's By Simply Improving Your Credit Score!

"Get the sobering 'truth' about your credit score, how it can cost you thousands of dollars and what you can do about it"

Did you know...?

Your credit score can affect many things, such as buying a house, renting an apartment, your car insurance rates, interest rates, and possibly, even your ability to get a job! Unfortunately, not many people know this. Your credit score says an awful lot about you, including things you may not even know about yourself.

Is your credit score high enough so that it doesn't negatively affect your life?

If you've got a 'close to perfect' credit score, that's great, but it's only true in about eleven percent of the country's adult population. The majority of us need to find out what's in our own credit report and work on improving it.

Credit Scoring Class will dispel the myths

So what can you do about it? Well, I'm glad you asked. We are now offering Credit Scoring Classes to the general public for people that want to get more information about their own credit report and score, learn about the many myths and realities that exist about them, and what you should and shouldn't do to improve your own credit score.

Why should I care about my credit score?

A good credit score will increase your buying power tremendously. For example, get a loan that you were previously denied, you can get lower interest rates on many loans, lower insurance rates, no deposits on cell phones and utilities, and many other great benefits. BUT...it doesn't happen by itself. You need to be informed and take action!
